

The College Funding & Planning Process

Acceptance of students at Colleges & Universities can be for reasons unknown to students and families. It is important to acquire basic information about the College Funding & Planning process.

For those interested in this subject, please "click" on the "The College Expense Reduction Process" in this website. This is a 7 minute power point presentation loaded onto U-Tube and will serve as an introduction to this process.

We can assist you via a personal visit, initiate the process via the phone or by use of join.me, a computer online sharing software. The first meeting will be informative, gathering general information about your student followed by a few financial questions. The goal of the this meeting is to prepare clients for student acceptance, and to offer available financial resources such as grants or student loans. Additionally, Freedom Financial Resources has the tools to help clients determine what their out-of-pocket expense will be. This out-of-pocket expense is commonly referred to as EFC(Expected Family Contribution). The second meeting will include disclosure of the College Funding & Planning process, and the minimum EFC will be determined prior to filing FAFSA forms. Savings in the expense of funding a college education is possible with lower EFC values, creating the opportunity to access FREE MONEY from a number of available financial resources.

At Freedom Financial Services, services are complete and professional. Your student will be presented to College and Universities in the best way possible. Our services will save you time and money. Your student will have the best chance to pursue a curriculum of choice and graduate within the minimum time frame possible.
